We are very pleased to offer a grand unattributed Pre Raphaelite oil painting dating from the mid nineteenth century. The painting is titled 'A Call to Arms' and shows a country man preparing to undertake military duty during the English Civil War. He is being dressed for battle by his children; with his son pulling tight the leather straps of his breeches. The scene is set in a room with a window looking out onto a green landscape with trees and a building. The painting is very finely painted with great character, sharp contrasts in colour and fine detail.
